

Legend

- Each circle (●) is a publication in PNAS
- established PIs (previously published in PNAS as PI)
 - chaperoned PIs (published in PNAS only as junior aut)
 - new PIs (never published in PNAS before)

Size

Citations after 5 years

The Chaperone Effect in Scientific Publishing

How do authors acquire experience to become principal investigators (PIs) in high impact journals?

Authors

Vedran Sekara IT University of Copenhagen
 Sune Lehmann Technical University of Copenhagen
 Roberta Sinatra IT University of Copenhagen

Publication

Sekara, Vedran, et al. "The Chaperone Effect in Scientific Publishing", PNAS, 115.50 (2018): 12603